some few goods proceeded on her way down. She is a beautiful vessel and has a majestic appearance on the fresh waters of the north. There can be no more convincing proof of the necessity of harbors wherever they are practicable, than the fact of the increasing commerce of Lake Michigan—increasing in every respect, in the amount of goods transported, and the size and beauty of the vessels engaged in the trade. The ships Julia Palmer and Milwakee, as well as all the brigs, are intended expressly for the Upper Lakes, and the value of either of the ships, would make a safe, capacious harbor at this place."

We have not time or space to dwell on the subject of harbor improvements at present, but shall endeavor to show, at some future day, the unprecedented increase of commerce upon Lake Michigan, the dangers of navigation, and the state of the harbors, so far as we may be able to ascertain. We fear it will be long before the wants of the west will be satisfied on this subject, on account of the late act of Congress, dividing the surplus revenue among the states. We should suppose that the immense amount of property destroyed and the numerous lives lost in navigating this Lake within the last two or three years would be enough of itself to claim the attention of Congress.

It has also been found a most useful spring and fall purifier of the blood. The rapidity with which this article has sold, and the vary flattering recommendations it has received, are evidences of its superior efficiely. The subjoined are among the communications in the hands of the proprietor:

White Pigeon, Aug. 3.

Stf

In calling attention to the medical virtues of the clobrated plant, I would advert to the fact familiar with every physician, that a numerous class of diseases arise from that impure state of the blood, which this active remedial agent is so efficacious in purifying. The great importance attached by ti sof the Sarsaparilla has engaged the attention of chemists, as to the mode of preparation in which its visites and the mode of preparation in which its virtues can be most advantageously combined. Their experiments have resulted in the discovery that the Chemical Compound Fluid Extract is decidedly superior to any other form in which it can be used. Since the introduction of the Fluid Extract, it has grown into rapid and extensive use, and its reputation is constantly increasing. We consider it one of the most valuable orticles in the M tria M sites, and find a manual result of the constant bla-articles in the M teria Medica, and find a material advantage in the standard preparation of uniform strength which is obtained by the Fluid Extract. Its superiority over the Decetions and Syruns sometimes made use of, is strikingly apparent. It obviates the necessity of preparing fresh decetions every day; and does not surfait and nauseate the stomach with the large proportion of sugar which has to be taken with each does of the syrup, and which renders it incapable of holding much of the pure extractive matter in solution.—
One bottle of the Fluid Extract is fully equal to a gallon of the syrup, or the decetion, as usually a gallon of the syrup, or the decoction, as usually Propered.

The virtues of this valuable medicine cannot an according to

The virtues of this valuable medicine cannot be too extensively known, as there is scarcely an individual who would not be benefitted by its use. The uniform testimony of medical men in its favor, and the great success which has attended its introduction, both in hospitals and private practice, is a convincing proof of its value, and of its superiority over other preparations of the Sars sparilla.

Mr. C. C. Bristol.—Dear Sir: Please and me four dozen battles Bailler's Companyal Fluid me four dozen bottles Bailey's Compound Fluid Extract of Sarsaparilla.

I cannot but express my highest sense of grati-I cannot but express my highest sense of gratification in the result this excellent preparation has had in, the curs of Cutaneous Diseases. In every case which has come under my practice, it has had the most complete success. Not one—even the most obstinate and long standing—but has received a permanent cure from this very excellent compound. In a section of country like this, where the principal diseases arise from a vitiated state of the blood, I think the introduction of your preparation will be of the most eminent I consider it the neatest preparation of sarea-parilla I have ever met with, and as such I un-hesitatingly give it my carnest recommendation. Truly yours, &c.
